

Color-Blind

You call that love?
Do you really think that's true?
How can anyone
Fall out of love so soon?
To keep you pleased
I gave you all I had.
Spent all my time
Thinkin' about you
I forgot about myself.

But now I realize
It was never me, it's you!
I used to blame myself,
But now I finally broke through.
This lesson I will keep in mind.
I'll never be so color-blind!

Finally, I see
The entire truth
Behind your shine!
No matter what I did,
You never wanted to be mine.
I never felt,
Like it was enough,
So I gave and gave
And gave and gave you
More than you deserve!

Oh now I realize
It was never me, it's you!
I used to blame myself,
But now I finally broke through.
This lesson I will keep in mind.
I'll never be so color-blind!

I'll never be the person
That I once was.
But that's okay,
'Cause I don't even wanna be!
Don't wanna lose myself
In someone else like that!
Who's the girl in the mirror,
Starring back at me?
No, Sir, I'm a grown woman now!
I thrive and I shine,
'Cause you're not weighing me down
Anymore!
Broke the chain,
Turned away from the pain
And never again will I be so
Color-blind!

I realize
It was never me, it's you!
I used to blame myself,
But now I finally broke,
Finally broke through.
This lesson I will keep in mind.
I'll never be so color-blind!
